Full Bio

Mr. Law, a native of Northwest Georgia, provides legal counsel to landowners, businesses, and investors, focusing on general civil litigation and property-related matters. Mr. Law's practice includes representing landowners in condemnation actions against government agencies and public utilities, as well as defending private property rights in boundary disputes, easement issues, trespass, encroachments, and construction disputes.

Raised on a historic farm in Cartersville, Georgia, Mr. Law has a deep connection to landowners' concerns and is dedicated to protecting the property interests of his clients. A proud "Double Dawg," Mr. Law earned a Bachelor of Business Administration in Real Estate from the University of Georgia in 2019. Mr. Law has been a licensed real estate salesperson since 2019 and worked at a boutique real estate firm in Cartersville before law school, where he assisted property owners with sales, investments, project analysis, and development, primarily in the industrial and commercial real estate sectors.

During his time at the University of Georgia School of Law, Mr. Law served as Executive Managing Editor of the Georgia Criminal Law Review and was President of the Rod & Gun Club. In his free time, Mr. Law enjoys traveling, cooking, hunting, fishing, and spending time with his dog, Rio.
